Assistant Secretary Doe of the war department, who favored the Bryan ticket, is suffering with a severe cold and is unable to leave the city. Assistant Secretary McAdoo, who is acting secretary of the navy, in the absence of Secretary Herbert, is registered in Jersey City, but will not be able to get away in time to vote.

YALE-PRINCETON FOOTBALL.

Announcement of the Arrangements for Seating, Etc.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 3.—The Yale News announces arrangements for the Yale-Princeton football game on Manhattan field on November 21 as follows: "The committee of graduates of Yale and Princeton with H. S. Van Deuser of Harvard will again take charge of preparations at the field, thus relieving the undergraduate management of much responsibility. The arrangement of seats, boxes and coach positions will be exactly the same as last year. Application blanks will be sent out to graduates. All applications for seats must be made upon these blanks, enclosed in envelopes with the amount in full for tickets applied for. The allotment will be made in so far as possible in accordance with the directions of applicants. No application will be received later than Friday, November 13. No large blocks will be assigned to any alumni association or organization before it is determined whether or not this will interfere with an impartial allotment to the regular applications. No seats will be put on public sale until all applications from graduates and undergraduates have been filled. Owing, to the fact that the admission tickets were counterfeited last year, no 'admissions' will be sold until the day of the game. In general, prices will be the same as previously. Heretofore seats in covered stand have been $2; open stands, $1.50; boxes, from $15 to $2; coach positions, $50. Coach positions will be reserved for undergraduates."

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE.

Report of the Postmaster-General on Its Operations for the Last Fiscal Year.

Washington, Nov. 3.—Postmaster-General Wilson has just given out a report on the operations of the railway mail service during the last fiscal year. It shows that the expenditure for mail transportation, inland and foreign, was $.0,52.,0.2, an increase of more than $1,500,000 over the previous fiscal year. Mail service to the gold regions of Alaska has been established for the benefit of miners and others there. The pneumatic mail service which it was desired to establish in Philadelphia, New York and Boston has not been developed as rapidly as was hoped on account of the enormous expense. The permission of the bridge company has been obtained for the construction of a tube between the New York and Brooklyn postoffices, crossing the Brooklyn bridge. The Boston matter is practically settled as far as the permission of the city council and other interested parties is concerned, and only awaits the signature of the mayor. It is also hoped that a much greater pneumatic tube service is within the near reach of the department in New York city.

MID-AIR PHOTOGRAPHS

Views of Printing House Square, New York, To Be Taken To-day.

New York Nov. 3.—Mid-air photographs of Printing House square, City Hall park and later in the day of the crowd awaiting election returns at the bulletin boards will be taken to-day by balloons. Kites will be sent aloft from the roof of the Postal Telegraph building. William A. Eddy and Henry L. Aiken believe that their experiment will demonstrate the advantage of an open square for mid-air photography since there will be freedom from the dark shadows which somewhat blurred the outlines of the masses of men moving on Broadway during the recent great parade.

Heavy Gold Withdrawals.

New York, Nov. 3.—The withdrawals of gold from the sub-treasury yesterday aggregated $1,350,000, the largest amount on any day, except one, since the movement of gold to America began. The express companies withdrew a good deal of gold on the order of out-of-town banks. The bullion dealers increased their premium on cash gold, that is, gold for immediate delivery, from 1/8 to 1¼ per cent.

James W. Husted Injured.

THE SECRET TREATY

Reply to Bismarck's Russo-German Alliance Disclosures.

ABOUT KEEPING STATE SECRETS

The Reichsanzeiger Says That Only Statesman in Office Can Decide the Time When State Secrets May Be Made Public.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Reichsanzeiger replies to Prince Bismarck's organ, the Hamburger Nachrichten, concerning the disclosure of the existence of a Russian-German treaty from 1884 to 1890, saying: "The question of the period of time required for secret diplomatic occurrences to lose the character of state secrets can only be decided by the statesmen in office, by virtue of their responsibility and special knowledge of the political situation. Any deviation from this principle would expose the country's foreign policy to surprises and perturbation, and thereby endanger interests of state. If Germany gave an unconditional promise to keep secret the fact as well as the purport of the negotiations with Russia before 1890, the obligation is still binding upon all cognizant of the matter, and this consideration also precludes the possibility of discussing the essential points of the negotiations."

Was Disloyal to Austria.

London, Nov. 3.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News reports that he has learned that the German treaty with Russia was in no wise as harmless as is alleged, but was disloyal to Austria. "Prince Bismarck was eager to come to terms with Russia," says this correspondent, "at Skiernievice, where the czar and Emperor William I. met, and later, in interviews with M. de Giers, he gave too warm an expression of his desire. The Russian diplomat noticed this and raised his price, the result being the agreement, which, it seems contained clauses which even now are unknown, but which proved bad faith to Austria. In government circles it is suspected that Bismarck's ultimate object is to dissolve the dreibund as the price of a Russo-German alliance."

MYSTERIOUS WAR VESSEL

Without Lights, She Hails a Brig and Asks for Information of Spanish Ships.

New York, Nov. 3.—Capt. Montgomery of the brig Carib, from Truxillo, reports that on Oct. 19, about midnight, a war vessel, without lights displayed, was sighted. Shortly afterwards the stranger blew his whistle several times to attract our attention and finding that we did not heed him, fired a gun. The brig was hove to and waited for twenty minutes until within speaking distance. The stranger proved to be a Spanish man-of-war. We were hailed and asked the vessel's name and whither bound and also if we had seen any Spanish vessels. After receiving replies they thanked us and said 'good night,' steaming away to the eastward without showing her lights. The night was dark, and it was impossible to distinguish her rig."

Death of a Prominent Pittsburg Lawyer.

Pittsburg, Nov. 3.—William D. Moore, one of the most prominent attorneys in Pennsylvania, died yesterday afternoon. Mr. Moore was for six years pastor of a Presbyterian church at Greensburg, Pa. He was a professor in Oakland college and in the Mississippi university for ten years. Admitted to the Allegheny county bar in 1856, he gave special attention to criminal cases, and was one of the most successful attorneys in the state.

Death of Another of the Grant Triplets.

Winsted, Conn., Nov. 3.—Matthew A. Grant, 75 years of age, a lifelong resident of Burrville and one of the famous Grant triplets, died suddenly of paralysis yesterday. William Grant is the only one of the Grant triplets now living. Previous to the death of Daniel Grant, which occurred nearly three years ago, the Grants were the oldest triplets in the world.

AWFUL ATROCITIES

Fearful Excesses of Spaniards and Rebels in the Philippines.

PRISONERS EXECUTED BY WHOLESALE

Rifles Held So Close to the Condemned Men That Their Heads Were Blown to Atoms---Spanish Women Witnesses of These Bloody Occurrences.

London, Nov. 3.—The Daily News to-day publishes a letter from an English merchant in the Philippine islands that was dispatched to London on Sept. 30. The writer alleges that horrible atrocities have been perpetrated by both the rebels and the Spaniards, but more especially by the latter, who torture their prisoners, particularly when they are prominent men, with a view to forcing them to confess complicity in the rebellion. He declares that in some cases prisoners' hands have been nailed to walls, while in others thumb-screws have been used. A hundred prisoners were thrown in one night into a dungeon in the fortress at Manila in which there was hardly room for thirty. The place was worse than the Black Hole of Calcutta. The poor wretches were up to their knees in filthy putrid mud. Fifty-nine of them died during the night. A reign of terror exists in Manila and elsewhere in the islands. Wholesale arrests are made daily of innocent and guilty persons indiscriminately. The writer adds that the rebellion is solely due to the corrupt administration of the Spaniards, which the natives were unable to endure any longer. The outlook is of the blackest description, and business is at a complete standstill. The writer was compelled to leave his estate, the government refusing to guarantee his safety there. Prisoners are executed by the wholesale. In treating of this subject the writer describes the shooting of four men on the public promenade. The troops held their rifles so close to the head of the condemned men that when the weapons were discharged their heads were blown to atoms. Crowds of Spanish women went to see these four rebels executed.

PECULIAR MINE ACCIDENT.

One Man Pinned Down by a Lump of Coal, and Two Rescuers Killed by a Blast.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 3.—An accident resulting from a singular cause cost the lives of two men and the fatal injury of a third at Packer colliery, No. 2, at Girardville, yesterday afternoon. Thos. Welsh of Lost Creek, John Hallaran of Gilberton, Joseph Staum of Lost Creek and Michael Nack were at work in the mine. Welsh had been engaged in what is known as "robbing" pillars. He had driven a hole in the face of the breast in which he put his blast. He applied the match to the squib and hastened away for a place of shelter. He had gone but a few feet when a large lump of coal rolled on to his foot, pinning him fast to the ground. Momentarily expecting the explosion of the blast he cried for help. The other three men were working near, and, disregarding the danger to themselves they ran to Welsh's rescue. They had scarcely reached him when the blast exploded, bringing down with it a mass of coal upon the men. Hallaran and Staum were crushed to death and Welsh fatally injured, while Nack was fortunate in escaping with slight hurts.

ALLEGED INTERVIEW WITH LEE.

The Consul Said To Have Eulogized Spain and Weyler's Troops.

Madrid, Nov. 3.—The Havana correspondent of El Liberal cables what purports to be an interview had by him with Consul-General Lee prior to the departure of the latter Sunday from Havana for New York. According to the dispatch, Gen. Lee said that he was going to make a private visit to New York. He added, the correspondent says, that he was confident that the heroism of Gen. Weyler's troops would speedily terminate the rebellion. He also eulogized the spirit Spain displayed.

American Embassy To Watch Ivory's Case.

London, Nov. 3.—Edward J. Ivory, alias Bell, the alleged dynamiter who is under remand for further examination in the Bow street police court, having applied to United States Ambassador Bayard for the protection of the embassy as an American citizen, the embassy will send a representative to the Bow street court when the next hearing comes up, next Friday, to watch the proceedings with a view of preserving the prisoner's rights as a citizen of the United States.

Fighting in Matabeleland.

Salisbury, Matabeleland, Nov. 3.—Col. Cecil Rhodes and Capt. Ferena, with thirty-five Burghers, captured and burned Pangoi's kraal on Saturday after a fight in which thirty-one rebels, including three chiefs, were killed.

Gold Yield of Victoria.

Melbourne, Nov. 3.—The gold yield of the colony of Victoria for the first three-quarters of the present year amounts to 586,512 ounces, an increase of 31,000 ounces over the same period of 1895.

RETURNS WILL BE SLOW.

Result of the Vote May Not Be Known Until Late Into the Night.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—As previously stated in these dispatches, election returns will be later to-night than usual in recent years. Hitherto in presidential elections New York has been a pivotal state, and the polls closed there at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The telegraph facilities were of the highest order, and the difference in time between that city and the west enabled the press associations practically to determine the result of the election before midnight. This year interest will centre chiefly in states west of the Alleghanies and in states west of the Mississippi. As a rule, the polls will close at a later hour, and the telegraphic facilities are comparatively limited. In the state of Illinois there is a provision for amending the state constitution and in Chicago another for the issue of local bonds, both of which under the law must be counted first, and this will necessarily involve some delay. It is needless to say that every effort will be made to prosecute the work as rapidly as possible.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

To Open Early for Investors To Make Transactions Based on Our Election.

New York, Nov. 3.—The London stock exchange will open at 5 o'clock to-morrow morning, New York time. Nearly all the foreign banking houses and brokerage concerns in New York having correspondents in London will keep both their main down-town offices and their up-town offices open all to-night to receive orders to be executed in the department for American securities on the London exchange. Investors and speculators who desire to make transactions based on election results will have five hours in which to do so in London before the New York stock exchange opens.

Bitter Struggle in Missouri.

St. Louis, Nov. 3.—Although the roads and weather are unfavorable for an election day the vote in Missouri to-day promises to be the largest ever cast in the state. The republicans have fought hard and aggressively and their claim of a coming victory is not campaign bravado, but is born of confidence. The democrats, aroused from apathy by the vigorous front of their opponents, have sent their squadron into every school district and feel assured of victory. The republicans are strongly abetted by the Palmer and Buckner democrats, while Bryan will receive the united support of the populists and the straight democrats. Democrats this morning claim 70,000 majority and republicans 50,000 majority.

Desperate Struggle in Indiana.

Indianapolis Nov. 3.—Election day in Indiana opened with fair weather in this city and vicinity but with cloudy and threatening in the northern part of the state. The voting in this city is spirited and both parties are working desperately, and a heavy vote will be the result. Chairman Martin of the democratic state committee and Gov. Matthews both claim the state for Bryan by not less than 15,000, ten congressmen and a decisive majority in the legislature. Chairman Gowdy declines to reduce the republican claim of 25,000, all thirteen congressmen and the legislature.

Elkins Claims Pennsylvania by 250,000.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—Reports from various sections of the state announce clear weather and a big vote being polled. From the mining regions comes news of many ballots being cast for Bryan. State Chairman Elkins predicts that the state will go for McKinley by the largest majority ever given to a presidential candidate by Pennsylvania—at least 250,000, he says. The republicans also claim to be sure of electing at least twenty-four of the twenty-eight congressmen from this state.

Snow Hinders South Dakota Voting.

Huron, S. D., Nov. 3.—There is over a foot of snow on the ground this morning, and this is interfering with a heavy vote being polled. It will also considerably delay the returns, as telegraphic communication is severed in many points. No messages by wire have passed between here and Pierre since Thursday. The storm is reported to be particularly severe in the northern and western parts of the state.

Disagreeable Weather in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 3.—Election day opened in Nebraska with a raw northwest wind blowing, and altogether most disagreeable weather prevails. The roads throughout the state are in some places almost impassible. Indications point this morning to a sharp and bitter contest at the polls and notwithstanding the positive claims made by both sides the result is in deep doubt.

Heavy Vote in New England.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Reports from all parts of New England indicate that a heavy vote is being polled and that unusual interest is being taken in the election. The weather throughout all of New England is ideal, the roads are in the best possible condition and there is absolutely nothing in this respect to prevent every farmer from reaching the polls, however distant.

BATTLE OF BALLOTS

Progress of the Elections Throughout the Nation To-day.

AN ENORMOUS VOTE BEING POLLED

Pleasant Weather and Good Roads in the East---Unfavorable Conditions in Several Western States---Claims of Different Party Leaders.

New York, Nov. 3.—Up to noon the vote in this city was unusually large and indications are that the full registration will be brought out. During the early morning hours an exceedingly heavy workingmen's vote was polled, and as the democrats rely largely on the middle classes they are now more sanguine of carrying the city for their candidates. Comparative quiet prevails at the different polling places throughout the city, although a number of arrests for attempted illegal voting were made. Telegrams from all parts of the state report a quiet and orderly election, with some little excitement in the larger cities, and a heavy poll. A dispatch from Buffalo says that Bryan is polling a heavy vote in northwestern New York. There were but few callers this morning at republican national headquarters. The members of the executive committee who will remain at headquarters to receive the election returns to-night are Joseph H. Manley, N. B. Scott, Gen. Powell Clayton and Gen. McKinley Osborne. They were all at their desks early to-day busy receiving reports from all over the country. The reports were all satisfactory and McKinley's election is regarded as certain. Nobody will be admitted to republican headquarters to-night except the reporters and about a hundred select guests of the national committee.

Considerable Excitement at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Nov. 3.—The election here to-day is being conducted with considerable excitement. Republican nominees for the city council are openly accused of trading off the republican national ticket in order to get votes for themselves and the judicial candidate, ex-Congressman Stockbridge. One prominent republican said: "We are in power in this city and state for the first time in thirty years. Many of our people consider the re-election of our councilmen as of much greater importance to the city organization than the election of McKinley. Besides, we think McKinley will be elected without Maryland's vote." It is reported that 200 negroes from Virginia were brought here for the purpose of repeating. Both parties deny any interest in the alleged repeaters. Mr. Wellington confidently asserts that McKinley will receive 25,000 plurality in Maryland and Chairman Talbott of the democratic state committee continues to claim the state for Bryan by about 5,000.

Exciting Day in Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—The battle of the ballots is on in Ohio to-day, and from all parts of the state comes reports of a heavy poll, great excitement and a fierce contest. In the northern and central parts the farmers are out in force, and it is believed they are voting for the Chicago nominees. Chairman Kurtz of the republican committee this morning claimed the state for McKinley by 65,000 to 100,000. Leading republicans here are inclined to regard this claim as too high, but all think the state is safe. The republicans have much the better organization; in fact it was perfect, and Chairman Kurtz is inclined to accept the statements of his local committeemen rather than reports from casual observers to the effect that there are big republican defections to free silver among the farmers and workingmen.

Both Parties Hopeful in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Nov. 3.—Chairman Rosing of the democratic committee said this morning: "We will carry the state without a doubt. The change of sentiment toward Bryan during the last ten days has been something remarkable. We will get at least 25,000 majority for Bryan. We will elect at least four congressmen and the others will be in doubt. Lind for governor will run somewhat ahead of Bryan. His majority will be between 30,000 and 35,000." Chairman Warner of the republican committee was equally as sanguine of the success of the republican ticket. He said: "McKinley will carry the state by upward of 25,000 votes; Clough by upward of 15,000. The republicans will elect the seven congressmen and have the legislature."

Bryan Returns to Lincoln This Morning.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan spent the night at the Paxton hotel and at 8:30 this morning they left over the Burlington road for Lincoln, where Mr. Bryan will cast his vote and await the returns.

The Vote In Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3.—While actual fusion was not effected in this state, it is reported that almost all of the populists are voting for Bryan and Sewall and the democratic nominees for congress.

AMERICAN ENTERPRISE.

What It Is Doing for the Development of Foreign Trade.

The Americanization of the West Indian Islands—Railroad Building in Jamaica—Yankee Colonists as Coffee and Fruit Planters.

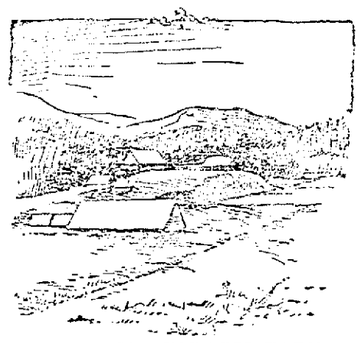
[Special Kingston (Jamaica) Letter.]

So vast is the extent of the United States, so seething the vortex of home activities that claim the immediate attention of the people, that it is not to be wondered at if not only comparatively but actually few know anything at all of what is being accomplished for the spread of the country's trade abroad by those enterprising citizens who strike out in new foreign fields. And yet it is always interesting to note the progress of such enterprises.

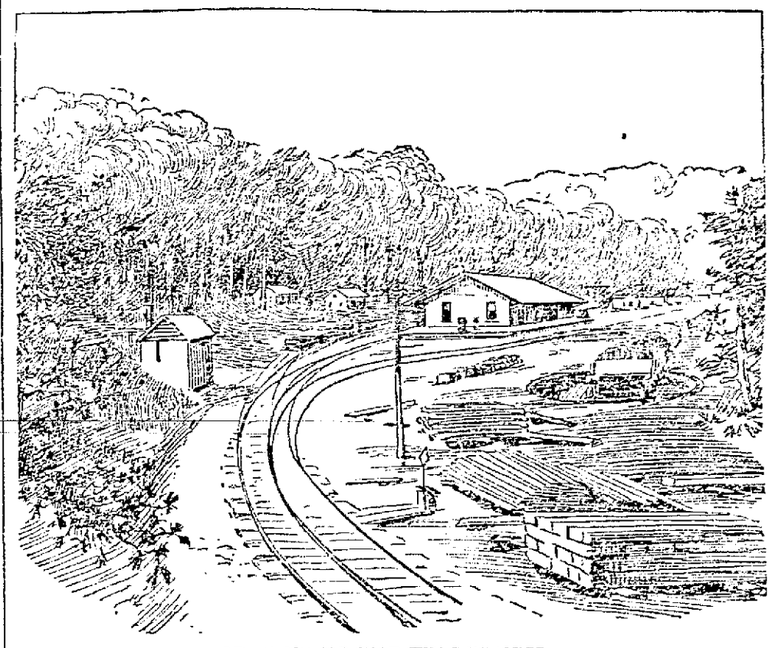
How many people in the United States, for instance, have any conception of the extent of the American enterprise which is not only surely but swiftly converting the magnificent but neglected English island of Jamaica into a lively and thriving American colony—or at least a center of American enterprise? Nevertheless, with the single exception perhaps of the Hawaiian island, there is not another foreign country in which there are centered more important American interests. This being the case, it has occurred to me that a brief account of the work of Americans in Jamaica cannot but prove entertaining to readers at home.

Years ago Jamaica was a flourishing country. Two centuries ago the city of Port Royal was described as "the richest spot in the world." But time has wrought its changes. On the ruins of buccaneering opulence rose the throne of the sugar king, and again, but in another way, Jamaica was prosperous. But European beet deposed the monarch of West Indian industry and Jamaica was rapidly falling into the chaos of bankruptcy.

But there were untouched resources that, hitherto unthought of, were quite able to place the island on a third and far more enduring industrial basis. The trouble was that these resources lay far away in the interior, beyond the reach of local enterprise. And it is here that the American influence came in. It would be a long story to repeat in detail—suffice it to say that some six years ago an American syndicate, incorporated in New York under the name of the West India Improvement company, with Mr. Frank Wesson at its head, took hold of the island and set about developing its latent resources.



A JAMAICA TOBACCO FARM.



OPENING UP THE WILDERNESS.

A little local railroad about 20 miles long existed. The syndicate bought this out and set to work, as a first necessity, to extend it. The story of Mr. Wesson's enterprise would fill a large volume. The sequel is told in a few words. A month ago he had the satisfaction of completing the last section of a railroad system, some 200 miles all told, which traverses the island from side to side and end to end, centering at Kingston and tapping all of the most fertile districts. And it may be truly said that nowhere in the world can a more remarkable instance of railroad triumph be found. For the lines scale mountains, tunnel through them, traverse forests opening up the wilderness, and span torrents in a manner that is simply marvelous. And hey, presto! Jamaica is open to enterprise.

The next step will be to introduce American capitalists. This would have been already done but for the conduct of the English governor, who appears to have conceived a strong prejudice against everything American in general and Mr. Wesson's enterprise in particular. But that is merely an incident. The people of the island are all enthusiastically in favor of the introduction of American capital and enterprise, and whilst governors come and go the resources of the island and the hearts of its people remain forever.

It is the purpose of Mr. Wesson to induce colonies of American agriculturists to come down and settle in the island, now that he has provided the means of bringing the rich and varied tropical and sub-tropical products of the interior within easy reach of the coast. And it is but a truth to say that no more promising field for such colonization could be found. However true it may be that the natural advantages of Central America are equal to those of Jamaica, it is also true that in those regions there is practically no assurance of security for vested rights or even life; whilst in Jamaica, under the British government, of course even the suggestion of any drawbacks of that sort would be the most ridiculous exhibition of ignorance. Everybody who knows anything about it knows that, in this respect, to invest and settle in Jamaica is just the same thing as to do it in the United States.

The openings for agricultural industries are sufficiently varied to offer inducements to every one, although there can be no doubt that the future of Jamaica lies in her becoming the fruit and kitchen garden of the United States. Already has American enterprise shown what can be done in the line of fruit. The Boston Fruit company has created a city at Port Antonio which was formerly but a coast hamlet, and turned the wilderness of three parishes into flourishing banana and orange walks. Twenty steamers a month cannot now handle the trade that used to be carried by six or eight steamers a year before the B. F. C. came into existence through the enterprise of Capt. L. D. Baker. And yet the fruit industry is only in its infancy—scarcely beyond the experimental stage. It may thus be conceived what the future will bring forth when Mr. Wesson introduces his projected colonies of orange growers from Florida and California, and other agriculturists from other parts of the United States.

Whilst fruit and vegetables offer greater immediate inducements, however, it is coffee that gives the first promise of permanent investment. Ther are already many Americans here who have embarked in coffee culture, and their experience is most satisfactory. Coffee begins to bear at three years, and goes on bearing continuously for from 60 to 70 years. To clear the land and plant it out costs about $45 per acre. A settler with some little capital to begin with, and keep him going for three or four years, could soon become independent by following this line of agriculture. The Americans now embarked in it began some years ago when the railroad extension commenced. Now the railroad is completed so are their first crops.

Next to coffee come tobacco, cocoa, pimento, nutmegs, ginger, and so forth, all of which are practically awaiting development. And labor is plentiful and cheap, the average price paid for a day's work being 36 cents.

Besides the work of Americans in thus carrying their enterprise into Jamaica and the other southern lands, there is, of course, the impetus that their presence gives to the export trade of the United States, the value of which cannot be overestimated. For example, whilst eight years ago Jamaica bought only some five per cent. of her imports from the United States, at the present time it is something like 35—and is steadily increasing year by year. And the same thing, on a smaller scale, is going on in the smaller islands, the commerce between which and the United States now requires to be handled by regular direct lines of steamers, whereas ten years ago three or four regular sailing vessels easily handled all the Carribean trade of the United States outside of Jamaica.

These are facts which tell their own story. The English are great colonists when they have the flag to lead them; but the enterprise of American commerce and industry goes them one better, in that Americans do not wait for the flag to lead them—at least, not since the resources of their own vast country have become practically developed. They are now reaching further afield, and what more natural than that they should seek an outlet for the overflow of enterprise in the adjacent lands where both the language and the social conditions practically coincide with their own?

And thus does it come about that these somnolent and withal much neglected islands of the Carribean, English in so far as nationality is concerned are fast becoming Americanized and awakening to the prospect of a future still more glorious because more permanent prosperity than they ever enjoyed during the centuries.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families and everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Something to Depend On.

James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with La Grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home and to the surprise of all she began to get better from the first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

A PERFECT BRUTE.

His Unfortunate Wife Didn't Earn the Twenty-Dollar Gold Piece.

"That Mr. Wallingford is a perfect brute!" said Mrs. Cubbage to Mrs. Gazzam, in a burst of righteous indignation.

"What has he done?" asked the latter in a tone of deep concern.

"You know his sweet little wife, don't you?"

"Mean Nellie Wallingford? I should say I do! You don't mean to tell me that he has been ill-treating her?"

Mrs. Cubbage nodded her head energetically.

"Will there be a divorce?"

"No, there won't be a divorce, but I think there ought to be one."

"Oh, tell me about it."

"You know the great bargain sale that has been going on at Gingham & Chally's?"

"Of course I do. Didn't I get the loveliest piece of satin there for just half price?"

"Well, Mr. Wallingford is trying to make his wife bargain-proof.'

"Trying to make her what?" repeated Mrs Gazzam, with an extraordinary stress on the "what."

"Trying to make her bargain-proof."

"What's that?"

"He says every woman ought to be educated to a point where she can go through a store that is crammed with bargains and not want to buy a single thing."

"Well, of all the ridiculous ideas I ever heard of I think that is the worst."

"It undoubtedly is. That gives you some sort of an idea of what a perfect brute Mr. Wallingford is."

"Yes, but tell me what he did."

"Well, when he got to know about this big bargain sale he thought it was a good time to put his idea into practice. So he got a $20 gold piece and told his wife that if she would go clear through Gingham & Chally's, look at all the bargains and come away without buying a single thing he'd give her the gold piece."

"Well, I never! Did she do it?"

"She thought of the things she could buy with the money and resolved to earn it."

"And did she?"

"Almost. She would have done it if she hadn't happened to spy a lot of genuine English pins reduced to two cents a paper, and she couldn't resist the bargain. So she didn't earn the money. Don't you think her husband is a perfect brute, now?"

"Indeed I do. I wouldn't be married to him for anything in the world."—N. Y. World.

THE SCORCHER'S LOVE.

He Made It in Bicycle Lore and Rode Tandem Through Life.

They were scorching down a meadow path just beyond Brookwood, and the evening breeze, sweet as hay, fanned her loosened tresses.

"My own," he said, cutting his wheel closer in, "let my heart speak; let it tell—"

She spurted forward suddenly, and the leggings played a rapid game of hide and seek under the abreviated blue skirt.

"My dear one," he cried, "since I knew thee, life has been a hallowed dream, and in my heart of—"

There was a whirr of wheels and the blue skirt fluttered far in advance.

"Hear me," he cried, rushing on like the wind; "no earthly bliss can be compared to thy presence I have yearned for this opportunity to come when—"

The chiseled chin was poised with an air of supreme hauteur, and the arched eyebrows sought the rim of her golf cap.

"Fair one," he exclaimed, "you have punctured my affections."

Her quick pedaling ceased suddenly, and the arched eyebrows were lowered.

"It's too true," he sighed. "I was geared up too high. Don't cast your Roentgen rays this way All my tubing is gone I am as flabby as a perforated Morgan & Wright. I need pumping up. The run has been rough. Put on the graphite of your smiles; inflate me with the inspiration of thy presence; lubricate me with thy love and steer me where you will."

There was a soft sigh and a clashing of handle bars.

"Yes, George, we'll take it tandem through life," she murmured

"If you want to get a girl these days, talk bicycle love to her," he explained at the club that night.—N. Y. Herald.

TUESDAY, NOV. 3, 1896.

The gold withdrawals from the New York Sub-Treasury, yesterday, amounted to $1,370,000, the largest on any day since the banks braced up the gold reserve. The drain upon the Treasury was not unexpected. Whatever political effect keeping hands off the gold reserve could have has been produced, and it would not be strange if interest in the "preservation of the national honor" was lost by the traffickers in gold and the looting of the Treasury went on as merrily as it did in the days that preceded the bond issues.

Not many people know how to be really magnanimous in the hour of victory, and if to-day's battle of the ballots should result in the election of Bryan there have been many things in the campaign that are calculated to make his supporters exultant and offensively demonstrative in their exultation. We hope that there will be nothing of this kind in Middletown, and that if Bryan wins his adherents here will be considerate of the feelings of their friends and neighbors who favored the lost cause. And if McKinley wins, we bespeak for the Democrats the same consideration we have asked for Republicans. We'll have to keep on living together, no matter what the result of the election, and it's arrant folly to stir up feuds and enmities and bitterness and hate by inability to accept victory gracefully and graciously.

Before another presidential campaign involves the country in turmoil, a law should be passed forbidding the use of the American flag for campaign purposes. The impudence of Hanna in trying to appropriate the flag of the whole people as the special emblem of the Republican party is only equalled by the indecency of the members of the same party who, in the campaign of 1888, sought to outdo the Thurman bandanna craze by using American flags as handkerchiefs. Such prostitution of the flag from its proper uses and all attempts to make it the special property of only part of the people lessen respect for "Old Glory" and invite insults to the flag by those who, when it is used for political purposes, see in it only the banner of a party, and forget that it is the starry emblem of all the people.

THE ELECTION IN THIS CITY.

A Large Vote Cast, Most of It During the Morning Hours—Little Trouble With the Big Ballots—Many Split Tickets—Boodlers at Work—Comparative Figures—Heavy Vote in Port Jervis, Goshen and the Country Towns

It has been a quiet election in this city. The perfect weather made it possible for the old and infirm and even the sick to get to the polls. A very large vote has been cast. Early voting was the rule, and in most of the districts a large share of the vote was cast before noon.

Voters in the main had but little difficulty with the blanket ballots, but now and then a citizen got tangled up in its supposed intricacies. Those who voted straight tickets spent but little time in the booths, but some of those who split their tickets found it necessary to do a good deal of marking in order to get them just as they wanted them. Judging by the length of time voters spent in the booths, many split tickets are in the boxes.

The purchasable voter has been very much in evidence, and so too have the boodlers. The buying of votes was carried on by Republican workers in the Third and Fourth wards with but little attempt at concealment. In the Third ward the boodling was done by prominent citizens. In the Fourth ward, the dirty work was left to party heelers.

ARGUS reporters who visited the different polling places at 3 o'clock, found everything quiet. There was little or no excitement. The following table shows the vote cast up to 3 o'clock. For purposes of comparison the vote of 1892 and the total registration for the year are given.

	Vote '96	Reg. '96	Vote '92
FIRST WARD.
First District	212	270	188
Second "	220	193	192
Third "	297	281	221
SECOND WARD.
First District	277	293	250

Third "	280	332	235
THIRD WARD.
First District	261	293	287
Second "	186	221	196
FOURTH WARD.
First District	287	351	293
Second "	271	319	284
Third "	296	344	256
Total	2870	3330	2983

Reports from Port Jervis, Goshen and the country towns are to the effect that the election is proceeding quietly and that a very large vote is being polled. As to how the vote is going, especially in the country towns, no one seems to have any definite idea. Experienced politicians say they were never so hopelessly at sea.

News From All Parts of the Country—A Very Heavy Vote Being Cast Everywhere—Perfect Weather Everywhere—New York Millionaires Voted Early and So Did the Plain People.

BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The day here is perfect. Voting began the minute the polls were opened. Many voters were in line before the polls were open. In the 29th Assembly district, known as the millionaire district, the oldest polling booth frequenters said he never saw the millionaires around so early before. At almost all the polling places more ballots had been cast by 10 o'clock than has been the case in years. A number of noted persons voted very early.

Dispatches from Watertown, Rome, Kingston and Jamestown report that an exceptionally large vote was polled early.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 3.—The early voting was heavy. Voters generally occupy the booths but a minute, indicating a straight vote. The interest is intense.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 3.—The voting here is the heaviest ever known. In some districts the voters are lined up for several rods.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—A heavy vote is being polled. Owing to the extreme length of the ballot, it is not likely that many precincts will finish counting before Wednesday morning.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 3.—A very heavy vote was cast early. Democrats find hope in the heavy early vote and claim this city and county for the fusion ticket.

RALEIGH, Nov. 3.—The voting in North Carolina is progressing peaceably. The chances for Governor seem to favor Russell, Republican.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—A heavy vote was polled early. At nearly all the voting places there were long lines of voters as early as 6:30. It is said very little scratching is being done and because of this the Republicans are jubilant as they claim straight ballots are in their favor.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 3.—It is a typical summer day. The country roads are good and all conditions enable farmers to get to the polls. Here and in Dayton, Toledo and Mansfield an unusually large vote was cast early. The indications are a very large vote will be polled.

DETROIT, Nov. 3.—A big vote is being rapidly polled in most precincts.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 3.—A heavy early vote is being polled.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Nov. 3.—A very heavy morning vote is being polled.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Indications are for an unusually large vote which is progressing quietly and with as much speed as possible with the blanket ballot.

NEWBURGH, Nov. 3.—The weather is fine and the voting heavy. About half the vote was polled by 10 o'clock.

ALBANY, Nov. 3.—Reports from Albany, Schenectady, Rochester, Owego, Buffalo, Elmira, Troy, Auburn and elsewhere in this State show a large vote. All is quiet. Hill voted at Albany.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 3.—It is estimated that half the vote of the city was polled by 11 o'clock.

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—An exceptionally large vote is being cast.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 3.—Reports to noon show that an unprecedented vote has been polled in all the counties. In Newark, Jersey City and elsewhere the Republicans are sweeping everything.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—A large vote was polled before 10 o'clock. It is believed Bryan will carry Colorado by 110,000 majority.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 3.—The election is proceeding quietly and rapidly. No attempts have been made to bulldoze or coerce the negroes, who are voting freely.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 3.—Voting is progressing much in the usual way all over the State. Bryan's majority is estimated at about 35,000.

CANTON, Nov. 3.—McKinley voted at 9 o'clock. He walked to the booth with his brother. He is in excellent spirits and remains confident of success. Reassuring telegrams are pouring in to his residence.

Your need in the head will be quickly relieved, and the severest attack of catarrh will yield to, and be permanently cured by a thorough treatment. THE GILBERT GOODGION INQUEST

The Jury After Hearing Several Witnesses Finds No One at Fault for the Accident that Caused His Death.

The inquest in the case of Gilbert Goodgion, who was killed, Saturday, by falling from the new High School building, was held at the Board of Trade rooms, yesterday afternoon.

Seym our Carpenter, who was the first witness to reach the unfortunate after he fell, testified to finding him lying amid broken timbers and terra cotta. The distance that he fell was about forty feet.

Thomas Carroll, who had been with Mr. Goodgion but a minute before the accident occurred, testified that Mr. G was then leaning over the terra cotta pointing it up from inside the wall.

There were three courses of terra cotta, two of which had been laid Friday, while the third course had been put in place that morning. The terra cotta was laid in cement, which had not had time to harden. The terra cotta that fell would weigh two or three tons. The outside scaffold which was carried down by the terra cotta, was a few feet below the terra cotta and was built that the work of pointing it up might be done from the outside.

Edwin McWilliams, contractor for the building, testified that Mr. Goodgion was superintendent of masonry. The terra cotta which Mr. Goodgion was setting was in three courses. The last course projected twelve inches over the line of the wall. If the courses were laid up dry and without backing, the last course would bring the centre of gravity so far over the wall that the terra cotta would topple over. In order for it to sustain itself it would be necessary to give the last course an overhang of only seven inches. When backed up with brick the work was perfectly secure. Told Mr. Goodgion to back up the two courses before he laid the third course. He did not do so. The terra cotta should have been pointed up from the outside scaffold. The scaffold was several feet below the terra cotta work, and was strong enough to have sustained the weight of the terra cotta if it had been laid on it, but went down beneath the shock of the fall. Mr. Goodgion may have toppled the terra cotta over while leaning over the wall to point it up, and he may have seen the terra cotta falling and tried to hold it and been pulled off his balance by it.

Dr. Pillsbury testified that he was called to attend Mr. Goodgion after the accident. Found him in a dying condition, and he died soon after being taken to the hospital. Death was caused by a splinter, which had pierced the eye and penetrated the brain. One leg was badly crushed and broken.

George W. Odell testified that he saw John Williams pull a wooden splinter two or three inches long out of Mr. Goodgion's eye. It looked as if the splinter had broken off in the head.

The jury rendered the following verdict:

Gilbert Goodgion came to his death on Oct. 31st, 1896, by injuries resulting from a fall from the new high school building, with a portion of the terra cotta of the wall and the outside scaffold. We further find that the evidence shows that Mr. Goodgion was superintendent of masonry on the building, and that no blame attaches to other parties for the accident which resulted in his death.

WHY GEORGE LEA IS DISGUSTED

Reported as in Favor of McKinley Because of His Offer to Bet on Him—No Sentiment in Betting—Is Solid for Bryan.

George Lea, of the Madison House, is immensely disgusted because certain half-baked individuals have jumped at the conclusion that because he offered to bet on McKinley he proposed to vote for that candidate. "Not on your tin type," says Mr. Lea. He is for Bryan from now until the last vote is counted, and although he isn't in the habit of spending money for political purposes, would give a generous share of the big bank roll that he hasn't been able to bet it by so doing he could insure Bryan's election.

When it comes to betting, however, Mr. Lea says it's no time for sentiment and he offered to back McKinley simply because the best information he could obtain led him to believe that he was more likely to win if he staked his money on that side.

We may add that although he voted for Bryan, Mr. Lea has $5,000 to bet on McKinley and will receive offers for any or all that amount until 6 o'clock to-night. No bets by telephone considered.

OSTRICH PLUMES.

Feather Tassels of the New Thread for Boas and Capes.

There has been a new departure in the manufacture of ostrich feather trimming. The feathers themselves have been transformed from the sprightly, curly tips to a stem with long fringe hanging from its flues. The attempt is to make them droop like paradise feathers, as that is the craze of the hour. The fringe is usually in a different tint from the rest of the feather. A white feather, for instance, will have a yellow fringe about eight inches long.

It appears to best advantage, however, when made into tassels and used to trim boas and capes. This material is not new; it is merely a new way of using the feathers themselves. The stiff, ungainly stem, which has always been so much in the way of progress in feather manufacture, has at last been removed, and the soft flues are found pliable. The fringe is made by simply twisting the flues together, three or four being used to make one string for a feather, and more according to length wanted when a tassel is to be made. The tassels on the end of the white feather boa mentioned are about 18 inches long and as thick as a man's arm. It took four girls ten days to twist the 4,000 ends used in these tassels.

Small tassels are used to trim feather capes and collarettes, and in this way they very much resemble the fur tails that edged fur capes last year. Instead of the bushy mink tails used on fur boas we shall see soft feather tassels and ostrich boas during the coming season. They are dyed in all colors, but the prettiest combination is white and yellow. A white feather collarette has yellow tassels about eight inches long, set around the bottom at intervals of six or eight inches. There is a sort of jabot of yellow tassels in front.

A very handsome black cape has green tassels, which is a fashionable combination now.

Out of a pound of feathers containing from 60 to 80 plumes about eight tassels can be made of the size described on the white boa. It is a new industry, but there are already 100 people at work in the factory. The product is called plume de saule. The manufacturers intend to use it in connection with novelties in fur goods. There will be ostrich tassels on fur muffs and boas, and it is possible that we shall soon see a soft fabric woven out of the silver threads.

Feather muffs with ostrich tassels are being made to go with the ostrich boas. A large firm in New York holds the patent on this material, but it is being scattered broadcast all over the country, and there is every indication that it will be the leading trimming of the coming season.

In making this feather thread the very best quality of plumes are used, as a poor grade would give a stringy fringe that is not pretty.—N. Y. Sun.

COMFORTABLES AND BLANKETS.

Necessary Articles in the First Cool Weather.

The first cool days of fall, and even the days of late summer, frequently call for warmer bedclothing. Nothing is likely to be more serious than a night chill, such as is frequently brought on by insufficient protection from the cool night air. The sudden changes of this season are too well known not to warn everyone to be cautious. Flannels of light quality and warm cashmere stockings are as much needed now by infants and invalids as heavier flannels are in the depth of winter. Where expense is of no moment, blankets of soft wool are the first choice, but a vast number of people are forced, from necessity, to use comfortables.

There is really very little choice on the score of economy if the comfortables are purchased all readymade, as a good light one that is properly made costs almost as much as a pair of blankets of the same warmth. The readymade comfortable is, moreover, seldom put together so that it can be laundered.

It is a very simple matter to make a good-sized comfortable at home, if there is a quilting frame in the house. It is very difficult to find readymade comfortables of proper size for a double bed. "Double comfortables" are usually too short and always too narrow. A comfortable can be made at home for less than $1.25 that is three yards square, though 2½ yards by 2½ yards is a very good size. Use the patent cotton, which is much softer and lighter than the cheap "batts" that require spreading. Tack the comfortable with Germantown yarn, and finish it on the edge with a buttonhole stitch in Germantown yarn. Such comfortables are easily ripped up when they are soiled. Do not attempt to wash the cotton, as it does not pay. Wash the outside and use fresh new cotton.—N. Y. Tribune.

Cynical.

Those who have reached a point in their journeying on a wrong road where they have lost their pride in a good name are in a very dangerous position. They are not far from the moral case of a certain speculator of whom one acquaintance said to another:

"I don't see how he can do as he does; he does not seem to think much of his reputation."

"Well," answered the other man, "I don't see how he could think much of it—it's so bad!"—Youth's Companion.

Celery Salad.

Wash the celery and keep it in the cool till wanted; then dry on a cloth and cut in thin-sliced sticks, 1½ inches long, or in short julienne shapes. Season it with pepper and salt, oil and tarragon or other vinegar and chopped shallot; mix well together and serve in a salad bowl. Garnish with slices of tomatoes or beetroot, cut in fancy shapes and seasoned like the celery.—N. Y. Ledger.

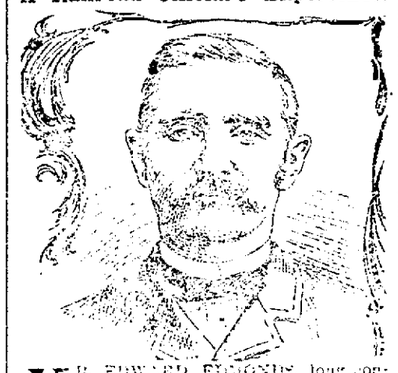
A Railroad Official's Experience.



MR. EDWARD EDMONDS, long connected with railroad construction in Nebraska writes: My back troubled and pained me for 18 years. Shortness of breath was the constant and most common symptom. Intense excruciating pains, generally followed any severe exertion. Faintness, hunger without an appetite, flutterings that made me afraid to go to bed, and prostration that often overcame me if I would fall, were frequent attendants. Again, everything would turn black as I arose from a stooping posture quickly. Sleepless nights with their tossing and restless misery were terrible and I could get no rest day or night. I consulted leading physicians and tried advertised remedies. They gave me no relief. One of Dr. Miles' circulars described my case so exactly that I took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and I am now a well man. I hope every one troubled with heart disease will try Dr. Miles' remedies. If they will write me personally, I will gladly give them full details of my experience." EDW. EDMONDS.

BOMB FOR PHYSICIANS.

Remarkable Views Expressed by the Noted Dr. Schweninger.

Bismarck's Medical Adviser Says Nature Is the Best Healer and Drugs Are of Little Use—How Best to Preserve Health.

There is a good deal of commotion in medical circles at present in consequence of a lecture which was recently delivered by Dr. Schweninger in Berlin. Dr. Schweninger has been for years Prince Bismarck's physician, and, like the ex-chancellor, is extremely blunt and outspoken. He has strong convictions and never takes the trouble to conceal them. When he prescribes his favorite course of treatment, in which the use of water plays a leading part, he sees that his instructions are obeyed, and not even Prince Bismarck ventures to disregard them.

In a word, says the New York Herald, the doctor is a man of striking individuality, and hence his opinion on any subject is interesting. Especially worthy of notice are his views on medicine, as this is the subject to which he has devoted the best years of his life.

In his lecture the doctor spoke of medicine and doctors of medicine in a manner that will astonish all conservative physicians. We have no more physicians, he said, but in their place we have a host of specialists. Medical men of the old school have passed away, making room for men of a younger generation, each of whom, instead of laboring to acquire a thorough knowledge of medicine in all its branches, is satisfied if he can acquire a sufficient knowledge of one branch to enable him to style himself a specialist.

Equally radical are his views in regard to the new therapeutical methods of treating various diseases. Serotherapy, in his opinion, will have outlived its usefulness within the next half century, and the practice of vaccination should only be tolerated and should under no circumstances be made compulsory. To many modern "fads" the doctor is decidedly opposed, and he says, without fear of consequences, that cycling is the cause of many ills.

He goes even further. Our modern dress is not pleasing to his eyes, and he insists that men and women cannot enjoy perfect health as long as the latter wear corsets and the former hats.

"Away with hats and corsets" is his persistent cry. And he tells us why he is convinced that these articles of apparel are injurious to human health. The popular opinion is that corsets are likely to prove injurious on account of the pressure which they bring to bear upon a delicate portion of the body, but Dr. Schweninger, on the contrary, maintains that they are injurious not because they fit too tightly round the body, but because they are too heavy.

He objects to men's hats for much the same reason. They press too heavily on the head, he says, and also prevent the air from circulating as it should, the result being a general tendency to baldness. The modern fashion of wearing the hair short is also distasteful to him, and he warns us that our health is not improved thereby. He would much rather see us wear our hair long, after the fashion of the old Merovingians and the modern athletes.

It will be seen that on all these points the doctor is a reactionary, a pronounced laudatur temporis acti.

As regards the benefits of medicine he is decidedly skeptical. Know yourself is his advice, and then, if you take proper care of yourself, you will not need any medicine. Should some disease unexpectedly attack you, the best thing you can do is to wait patiently until it leaves you. As a rule, he claims that drugs and doctors prove of little service.

The doctor, as will be seen, is in many respects a true disciple of Hippocrates. The latter believed firmly in the healing power of nature—the words natura medicatrix were ever on his lips—and the former chancellor's physician is also a firm believer in the same power. He reminds us somewhat, too, of Galen and Paracelsus, and there is no doubt that he has learned from these ancient worthies.

His views on medicine and other matters are certainly novel, but it would be rather rash to assume from them that the doctor is utterly opposed to all modern methods of treating the sick. He rather seems to urge us not to have recourse to drugs on every trifling occasion, but to accept nature as our healer. He says no harsh words about physicians, and it is evident that he would give his best support to those brethren of his own profession who would be willing to take Hippocrates and nature as their guides and to abandon many of our vaunted modern drugs and so-called panaceas.

In conclusion, it may be said that Dr. Schweninger's reputation as a physician was made years ago, and his views, therefore, on this vital subject are entitled to every consideration. Even those who disapprove of them must admit that they are exceedingly original and interesting.

ROYCE'S,

You Will See

That it isn't enough merely to save money. Slowly and laboriously adding one dollar to another amounts to very little in itself. Your money must grow to count for much. Money grows most when invested in real estate. The fact is as plain as it is that twice two make four. It's just as plain, too, that property in Middletown is a gilt edged investment. This town isn't standing still. Middletown is growing, and real estate values are certain to steadily advance on that account. We have some very choice properties on our books, and those investing now are sure money makers.

do you eat iron

Some persons are always taking iron. If weak and easily exhausted; pale and without appetite; if the nervous system is weak, and sleep difficult, what do you take? Iron? But iron cannot supply food to the tissues; nor does it have any power to change the activity of unhealthy organs and bring them back to health. Cod-liver oil is what you need. The oil feeds the poorly-nourished tissues, and makes rich blood. Iodine, bromine, and other ingredients, which form part of the oil, have special power to alter unhealthy action.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is the most palatable way to take cod-liver oil. The hypophosphites supply healthy nerve action, which controls all the processes of life.

SCOTT'S EMULSION has been indorsed by the medical profession for twenty years. (Ask your doctor.) This is because it is always palatable—always uniform—always contains the purest Norwegian Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites.

Put up in 50 cent and $1.00 sizes. The small size may be enough to cure your cough or help your baby. All druggists.

HOSPITAL DONATION DAY.

The Board of Managers Gratefully Acknowledges the Receipt of Many Useful Gifts—Delicacies for the Sick—A Well Filled Store Room.

The managers of Thrall Hospital desire to publicly acknowledge all contributions received at Thrall Hospital, on Wednesday last (donation day).

The liberal response of the public to this appeal is most gratifying. The delicacies in the way of jams, jellies, fruits and gelatine will be beneficial to the sick, and with the more substantial articles with which the store room is filled will reduce the daily expenses for a long time to come.

The sick are blest in receiving, but the greater blessing of giving was reflected in the faces of those little children who came laden with offerings.

If in this list the names appear of those who preferred to have their names withheld we ask their kind indulgence and hope we were able to get the list of articles complete and the names correct.

To those who were prevented from sharing in the pleasures of the day the list is still open and to all we extend most cordial thanks.

At the close of the year a call at the hospital will insure to each person who contributed cans of fruit or glasses of jelly the return of empty jars or glasses.

HOW A [illegible] AWAY.

One of the Aggravating Experiences of Men Who Carry in a City.

A perfect gale was blowing. It poured through the square and plunged into the avenue in yeasty, like the narrowed current of a stream pouring from a worshiped into a mountain gorge. Men were cautiously edging to their lairs, and women were openly struggling with their skirts. Scores of grit beat against the windows, and pedestrians bent forward and held their breath as they bet the struggling, dust-ridden gusts.

Suddenly something white whirled up against the soldiers' monument. Higher and higher it rose—ten, twenty, thirty feet. Then it hovered for a moment like a bird, and made a swift, slanting flight into the avenue. It was a brand-new straw hat—one of those that ripen suddenly at the close of the season and fall on the bargain counters.

People on both sides of the street stopped to watch its glimmering flight. It struck in the center of the electric car track, made a low, skimming bound of 50 feet or more, and then settled into a scorching gait down the avenue. A man nearly a block away saw it coming and ran into the street to intercept it. With feet outspread, knees hugged together and extended arms, he stood waiting. The flying hat struck him midway between ankles and knees, bounded breast high and flashed over his shoulder before he had time to formulate a single expletive.

By this time he had turned sheepishly around to see what had become of the fugitive. It was already a bobbing speck in the distance. Then a transverse current of air caught it, and it swerved to the sidewalk. Three or four ladies dodged it, with little feminine shrieks. Then another man essayed to stop it, but just as he was bending forward and about to lay triumphant hands upon it the evasive hat dodged with lightning rapidity and went bowling down the gutter.

In the dim distance a bareheaded citizen labored in pursuit. His breath and strength were well-nigh spent, but still he kept desperately on, shouting and gesticulating. The mania of the hat-chaser possessed him. He could not stop, though nature and reason urged him to. So long as he could keep his flying property in view, so long that galvanic action of legs, arms and lungs must continue.

At last two men planted themselves abreast in the path of the whirling hat. Surely thus far, and no farther, it might come! The hat chaser paused, with all his anxious soul shining in his heated face. Like an arrow the hat darted upon the two obstructionists. There was a moment's wavering on their part, a slight change of position—and between them it flashed. But the writer of the two men was not to be thus balked. With the speed of a sprinter he pursued, and, finally, making a tremendous spurt, got abreast of the hat, and stepped on it.

Five minutes later the perspiring owner arrived. He took his hat, now a crushed and shapeless mass, from the hand of its captor and gazed darkly upon it. For a minute exhausted nature forbade speech.

Then the man hissed, with sibilant rage and disgust:

"Confound you! If you were a goat I'd make you eat it!"—Detroit Free Press.

HAVING Purchased the entire stock of Coyne's Pharmacy and added it to my large and well selected stock, I am now better prepared than ever to supply the wants of my friends and customers with drugs and medicines. It is well known Mr. Coyne's stock was comparatively new, he having been in business but a few months. Prescriptions formerly compounded by him may be filled at my store. I thank the public for their generous patronage in the past and hope for a continuation of the same. Respectfully,

ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT, NOV. 4, AT 8 P. M.
ASSEMBLY ROOMS,
VENO, The Great Healing Power.

Will lecture and cure Rheumatic cripples. He makes them walk in full view of the audience. The cures are performed by the world-famed Veno medicines. Anyone can perform the same cures possessed of the Veno remedies. Do not confound this with magnetic healing. Veno has no faith in such nonsense.

All Rheumatic cripples who cannot walk without canes or crutches are respectfully requested to call at Veno's office, Commercial House, between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m., on Wednesday. A few of the worst cases will be cured free of charge, as an advertisement, to show the extraordinary power of the Veno remedies. Men and women on crutches and canes don't fail to be there before 5 o'clock. Office, Commercial House, Middletown. Wednesday night, Nov. 4th, Veno will lecture at 8 p. m. in the Assembly Rooms. The extraordinary cures of various diseases performed by the world-renowned Veno treatment have been the talk of two continents, and is as far different from the work of other physicians, as the electric light is from the tallow dip. His remedies are foreign productions; they root out disease, clean the system of all poison germs, revitalize the blood and raise the sick and weary out of their physical distress, and place them among the well people of the earth. Veno has over 10,000 sworn testimonials of the most remarkable cures ever performed in the annals of medical history. He is a regular graduate, receiving his education in the old country, and was associate of the late Morrell McKenzie. Every lady and gentleman in Middletown should attend the Veno lecture Wednesday evening. Admission free to all.
